November 2008

You are at the top when...

You understand that others can give you pleasure, but genuine happiness comes when you do things for others.

You are pleasant to the grouchy, courteous to the rude and generous to the needy.

You love the unlovable, give hope to the hopeless, friendship to the friendless and encouragement to the discouraged.

You can look back in forgiveness, forward in hope, down in compassion and up with gratitude.

You know that "he who would be the greatest among you must become the servant of all."

You recognize, confess, develop and use your God-given physical, mental and spiritual abilities to the glory of God and for the benefit of mankind.

You stand in front of the Creator of the universe and He says to you, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

By Zig Ziglar

Consider the following facts. Then count your blessings.

If you have food in the refrigerator, clothes on your back, a roof overhead and a place to sleep ... you are richer than 75% of people in this world.

If you have money in the bank, in your wallet, and spare change in a dish someplace ... you are among the top 8% of the world's wealthy.

If you woke up this morning with more health than illness ... you are more blessed than the million who will not survive this week.

If you have never experienced the danger of battle, the loneliness of imprisonment, the agony of torture, or the pangs of starvation...you are ahead of 500 million people in the world.

If you can attend a church or other places of worship without fear of harassment, arrest, torture, or death ... you are more blessed than three billion people in the world.

If your parents are still alive and still married ...you are very rare (and your parents too!).

If you hold up your head with a smile on your face and are truly thankful ... you are blessed because the majority can, but most do not.

If you can hold someone's hand, hug them or even touch them on the shoulder ... you are blessed because you can offer healing touch.

If you can read this message, you are more blessed than over two billion people in the world that cannot read at all.

Have a good day, count your blessings, and pass this along to remind everyone else how blessed we all are.

From the Director

Dear Parents:

How do times fly... The holidays are upon us. For some it is the most wonderful time of the year, for some families the holidays may not be as enjoyable with their loved ones in Iraq or other situations that occur.

Hopefully for all we will have a safe and wonderful holiday.

Please join the classroom for our special Thanksgiving Dinner. We are thankful that we are able to provide food for all.

To all our new families welcome welcome, welcome- we are glad you are here as part of our family.

Remember I have an open door policy, I enjoy working with families please come and talk to me about any concerns you may have.

Parents

Staff is working hard at completing the goals of school readiness.

In December they will be rated by Qualistar --wish them luck.

If you have not completed the survey please do so at the front of the center.

Language development

Language is one of the most important areas of human development. Our communication skills set us apart from the rest of the animal kingdom, and these particular skills is what brings us together with each other.

Babies are born without language. By age five, most children know several thousand words, and have mastered almost all the rules of grammar. This incredible feat of learning is accomplished with little or no formal schooling. But it has everything to do with how you, as a parent, talk with your child.

For many reasons, language development in the first five years of life is important. You can nurture your child's language by doing a lot of talking, listening, singing, playing, and reading. Other articles in this section will give you specific suggestions how. They'll also explore in more detail the ways in which language connects with many other areas of development. The more you understand about your child's developing language, the more amazing it is.

Always ask questions to your child/ren about their day, listen to their answers
